The Teachers And Morals.

We are certainly glad to know that the moral standard is being raised by the teachers in Crittenden Co., although I believe it has always stood up toward the head of the column, morally; but there is always room for improvement, and unless we grasp every opportunity to elevate the pupils and ourselves as teachers, we will soon find ourselves at a stand still.

If a teacher can create a greater moral atmosphere, in the community, where he or she is teaching, than they find existing in such community, they are really not the teacher. It is the one that is elevating the morals that is teaching, and not the so-called teacher, therefore it is necessary for the teacher to set a high standard of morals in the school and endeavor to make every one, great and small, walk under that standard.

If I am allowed to predict, I will say that in the future, the moral qualification will be the one qualification most sought for, and I think should be, as we educate children to make the best citizens possible of them; in other words we are preparing them to receive the Gospel of Jesus Christ. So let's always be ready to lay ourselves before them as a moral standard that will elevate them to the highest degree of citizenship. C. O. POGUE.

TELLS HOW TO MIX IT

Tells You How to Overcome Rheumatism With Simple Recipe.

A well-known authority on rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mixed by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.
